

IMPORTANT 2025 YEAR-END TAX INFORMATION
REGARDING FORM 1099-DIV and 1099-B

FORM 1099-DIV

The following information about your 1099-DIV from Hartford Mutual Funds and ETFs should be used when preparing your 2025 tax return. You should consult your tax professional to determine the appropriate use of these tables.

- Short-term capital gains are reported in Box 1a and are subject to ordinary income tax rates.
- Long-term capital gains are reported in Box 2a and qualify for long-term capital gains tax rates.
- Return of capital distributions are reported in Box 3 (Non-dividend distributions) and are not taxable. Cost basis must be adjusted as a result of a return of capital reported in Box 3. Additional information is available on our website at www.hartfordfunds.com
- If any income tax is withheld from your distribution it will be reported in box 4 for federal withholding or box 16 for your state withholding.

Qualified Dividend Income

Shareholders in the following Mutual Funds and ETFs may be eligible for a reduced tax rate on certain qualified dividends. The portion of the dividend income that qualifies for a reduced tax rate is reported separately in Box 1b and is also included in the total ordinary dividend amount in Box 1a. Dividends that are not qualified dividends are taxed at the appropriate tax rate for ordinary income.

Amounts designated as qualified dividend income under the Internal Revenue Code are:

Foreign Source Income and Foreign Tax Credit

The following Mutual Funds and ETFs elected to give shareholders the benefit of the applicable foreign tax credits. The ordinary dividend amount in Box 1a of Form 1099-DIV includes your proportionate share of foreign taxes paid by the Mutual Fund or ETF in addition to your income dividend. Your proportionate share of foreign taxes paid by the fund also appears in Box 7. You may treat these taxes as if paid by you; thus, you may be eligible for a tax credit or deduction on your tax return.

Tax reporting rules vary depending on the size of the foreign tax credit or deduction claimed. In some cases, it is necessary to identify the foreign taxes paid by country. This detail can be obtained by calling us at (888) 843-7824. However, we strongly encourage you to consult with your tax professional.

2025 Taxable/Exempt Interest Income

The Taxable Income percentages in the table below may be used to determine the percentage of dividends that are taxable. The table also reports the percentages of tax-exempt dividends that may be treated as a tax preference item for the alternative minimum tax (AMT). This information is provided on Form 1099-DIV.

Some states do not tax federally tax-exempt dividends. To find the percentage of dividends attributed to a specific state or municipal security, see the State Income Information table.

MUTUAL FUND NAME	TAXABLE INCOME	ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Hartford Municipal Opportunities ETF	6.50%	14.80%
Hartford Schroders Tax-Aware Bond ETF	11.49%	0.00%

FORM 1099-B

Form 1099-B reports the amount of proceeds from the sale of shares either through redemption or exchange. Please note the following:

- Redemptions that are both less than 1.000 share and less than $20.00 in gross proceeds are not reported on your Form 1099-B but must be included on your tax return. These redemptions can be found in the details of your annual account statement.
- Box 4 reports federal backup withholding. Include this amount on your income tax return as tax withheld. In order to discontinue backup withholding, you may need to send us an updated W-9 or other withholding certificates. Box 16 reports state backup withholding. Please contact our office for further information.
- Automatic share conversions from Class C to Class A in the same fund are non-reportable events. These transactions will not appear on your Form 1099-B.
- If Cost Basis information is available on your account, it will be provided on your Form 1099-B. Please keep in mind:
 - For detailed Cost Basis guidance refer to the instructions for Form 1099-B.
 - Cost Basis information in sections on this Form 1099-B identified as not being reported to the IRS are for information purposes only.
 - Form 1099-B breaks down proceeds from the sale of shares according to their holding period.
 - The gain/loss information which is not reported to the IRS is an estimate. It is your responsibility to accurately report information on your tax return.
 - Contingent Deferred Sales Charge (CDSC). If you redeemed shares and were charged a CDSC, the gain or loss on your redemption has been adjusted to reflect the cost basis of the CDSC and the new adjusted gain or loss is shown on your Form 1099-B.
 - The Cost Basis provided on your Form 1099-B for the 2025 tax year does include “wash sales” that occurred entirely within your account during 2025. Wash sale transactions that occurred within the account in January 2025 will be issued a corrected Form 1099-B, in early February 2025, if the transaction is not reflected on the current form. “Wash sales” that occurred through transactions outside of your account are not included. Refer to the instructions on Form 1099-B for more detail.

The information provided in these materials has been provided for your reference and is not intended to be all inclusive.
